

The Prevention Practitioners Network

Mission:

The Prevention Practitioners Network is a national network of interdisciplinary professionals dedicated to preventing targeted violence, terrorism, and their impacts within the United States.

Background:

Established through a partnership between the McCain Institute, the Anti-Defamation League, and the Institute for Strategic Dialogue, this network aims to increase the efficacy of locally based prevention and intervention programs and, where appropriate, expand referrals to qualified programs.

The architecture and implementation of this network has been made possible through funding from the Department of Homeland Security's Targeted Violence and Terrorism Prevention Grant Program.

Programs Committee

The Programs Committee organizes events for members of the Prevention Practitioners Network. These may include but are not limited to:

- virtual and in-person networking events;
- topical workshops;
- skill-building seminars.

The Programs Committee serves as the primary source for event information for all members of the Network, and will promote events to Network members in a timely fashion.

The Programs Committee also facilitates election processes for both the Network's Advisory Board and the Network's Chair.
